Fuse Lit To Blast Lausche's No-Tax Increase Program

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, May 11—(AP)—Ohio senators lit the fuse to dynamite Gov. Frank J. Lausche's no-new-tax program today.

Representatives touched off their own fireworks by calling for a vote on bills to boost jobless benefits and to trade compulsory FEPC for an educational program.

A surprise split in Democrat majority ranks of the senate rules committee set the stage for the tax showdown. The committee voted 4-3 late Tuesday to recommend passage of three measures to:

Appropriate $27,500,000 to give school teachers two-year pay raises of $25 monthly and increase wages of other school employees;

Allocate 15 percent of sales tax revenues to local government to boost the present $12,000,000 annual grant to about $18,000,000 or more a year;

Earmark the $15,000,000 yearly revenue from intangibles taxes on financial institutions to the local government fund, instead of returning it to the source of collection.

Sen. Margaret A. Mahoney (D-Cuyahoga), senate Democrat leader, said the measures were brought out over her "vehement protest."

Democrat Senators later met 2 hours behind locked doors in Lausche's office. Finance Director H. D. Defenbacher and Tax Commissioner C. Emory Glander were present. The session broke up at 1:15 a. m. Only Sens. William M. Boyd of Cleveland and Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry were absent.

Admits Disagreement

The governor said scheduling the three bills for a vote precipitated the caucus. He admitted there was disagreement over their support. Caucus participants indicated the split was about 50-50.

Lausche said he repeated previous admonitions that the state should live within its income. He estimated the proposed bills would mean $47,500,000 in new spending for the biennium and added:

"I'm afraid that if this starts, the flood gates are open."

The governor declared in favor of eliminating the three percent non-paid vendors for handling sales tax stamps, saving $4,000,000 annually, and cutting in half the three percent redemption paid for stamps to save $1,500,000 a year for a total of $5,500,000.

Lausche had this to say to newsmen after the caucus:

"When I submitted my budget, the opposition in the legislature labeled it as an extravagant one. Yesterday we had the revealing spectacle of one of the very men who vigorously attacked me and the budget setting into motion the machinery for passage of bills that will spend $47,500,000 in new money."

The governor referred to Sen. Roscoe R. Walcutt (R-Franklin), senate minority leader and a member of the rules committee.

A committee member gave this lineup on the vote to put the controversial bills on the senate calendar: for—Sens. Walcutt, Clinegar Jackson (D-Mahoning), Emmett P. Guthrie (D-Coshocton) and Fred L. Adams (R-Wood). Against—Sens. Mahoney, Howard M. Metzbaum (D-Cuyahoga) and Orval E. Whiteacre (D-Stark).

Lausche has said his record $650,000,000 biennial budget allocated more money for schools to cover increases in enrollment only. He said expected income couldn't

MASON REPLIES TO HOME CHARGES

Retention of an employee who is scheduled to face arraignment on a morals charge tomorrow in Stark county juvenile court was criticized by Stark County Commissioner Joseph T. Nist Tuesday at a meeting of a two-county governing board at Fairmount Children's home.

"I don't believe he should be retained at the institution while under suspicion," Nist said.

G. E. Mason, superintendent of the home, along with the trustees, defended the accused staff worker and declared the charges were a "frame-up" and a scheme to force the removal of the superintendent.

"Critics who have nothing constructive to offer are seeking to undermine the entire home structure," said Mason in his annual report to the joint board of Stark and Columbiana county commissioners.

Trustees of the bi-county institution which houses 150 children also were criticized in sharp exchange of views at the heated session for making what was termed "illegal expenditures of public funds."

Trustees were told by State Examiner F. E. McBride that they were spending funds which, he said, could be rightfully spent only by the joint board of commissioners.

Families whose total income rose to $3,200 or more a year would have to move within six months. In computing the total, $2,000 would be allowed the principal wage earner, $200 for each dependent to a total of $600, and $600 more for possible income of dependents.

Rural Republicans generally opposed the measures. Leading the attack were Reps. Roy H. Longenecker of Wood county and Frank H. Peirce of Huron county. Voting for the measures was Rep. C. William O'Neill (R-Washington), house minority leader. He urged consideration on a strictly non-partisan basis.

Delegation Leaves For 'By-Pass' Conference

A delegation of 22 Salem business and civic leaders departed at 2:30 this morning for Columbus where they will confer with Gov. Frank Lausche regarding the proposed truck by-pass north of Salem.

The group, travelling in five automobiles, instead of in a bus as previously planned, planned to lunch at the Deshler-Wallick hotel. Later they met with Lausche in his office.

R. S. McCulloch, director of the Chamber of Commerce, is chairman of the delegation.

New Dog Pound Success, Satisfies Warden Stark

LISBON, May 11—The new county dog pound at the county home farm is working out even better than anticipated. County Dog Warden L. J. Stark announced today, adding that the county is getting rid of unwanted strays and being paid for them, while others are claiming their pets and purchasing a license for them.

There were 29 dogs in the pound Monday when a representative of a medical laboratory in Illinois, making his weekly rounds collected strays for which the county receives $1 per head for grown healthy dogs. The animals are used in the preparation of vaccine, it is stated.

Unlicensed dogs which are likely to be claimed by the owners are kept in the pound for ten days before any action is taken, and persons desiring a dog as a pet may secure one at the pound by purchasing a license, Stark said.

Armies Living Off Land; No Definite Word

SHANGHAI, May 11—(AP)—Chinese Communists, apparently living off the land, bore down swiftly today on coastal Fukien province.

At the same time the Red noose around Shanghai was tightened. The Nationalist garrison here officially admitted these Red gains.

Unofficial reports indicated Hankow, big Yangtze port in central China, may be doomed. A three-pronged Communist attack on Hankow seemed to be gathering momentum.

The Shanghai garrison commune today gave this picture:

1. A Red force of 2,000 men has attacked Kinki in Kiangsi province less than 50 miles from the Fukien boundary. Fukien is opposite the island of Formosa.

2. The Communists were attacking Kashi, 50 miles southeast of Shanghai. Communications with that city were severed at dawn. This usually means capture.

3. Thirty miles northwest of Shanghai the village of Chenmo in the Kunshan area was under Communist attack.

The communists gave no indication of the size of the two moves around Shanghai.

The weight of the Communist offensive has been into southeastern China through Kiangsi and Chekiang provinces. This irregular front extends from Hangchow on the east to Lake Poyang on the west.

(The force attacking Kinki is part of the westward prong aimed for Fukien through Kiangsi. Kinki is 250 air miles southeast of Hangchow and 80 miles southeast of Nanchang, Kiangsi provincial capital. It is only 25 miles northeast of Nanchang.)

The eastward prong was reported yesterday by the Communist radio to be near Kiangshan in Chekiang province. Kiangshan is only 35 miles from the northern boundary of Fukien.

The situation at Hankow was not altogether clear. Gen. Pai Chung-hsi, Hankow commander, had flown there from Canton. The newspaper Sin Wan Pao said that part of the Wuchang-Hankow garrison in central China had been evacuated.

ACHESON PUTS SUCCESS TO SOVIET AIMS

Says Paris Conference Will Decide Whether Russia Wants Achievements

WASHINGTON, May 11—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson indicated today success of the coming Big Four conference on Germany will hinge on how far the Russians will go along with plans already laid out by the western powers.

He told a news conference the United States intends to demand full guarantees of civil rights for the German people and will not accept any proposals which do not provide for such guarantees.

Acheson also made this statement later authorizing direct quotation:

"Whether a solution can be reached in Paris depends, of course, upon the willingness of the Russians to make or consider proposals which will not retard in any way whatsoever the great progress which has been made by the western powers in their effort to bring as much of Germany as possible into a condition where it can be a peaceful and constructive member of the community of free nations in Europe."

The meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers opens at Paris May 23.

In setting the limits of American maneuvers at Paris, Acheson went further than any top American official had gone to suggest publicly that if major compromises are to be made for agreement on Germany they will have to be made by Russia.

Acheson praised to the limit the accomplishments of the Berlin airlift pilots and credited their efforts with defeat of the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

But he declared that while everybody is delighted that the airlift brought an end to the blockade, no one should regard this development as having solved the problems of Germany.

New Basement At Winona Church To Be Dedicated

A new basement and other improvements, added to the Winona Gurney Friends church at an approximate cost of $7,000, will be dedicated at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Dr. Walter William Damascus, superintendent of Foreign Mission work, Ohio Yearly meeting of Friends, will give the address.

Prof. Ralph S. Coppel of Alliance, will review the church history. Arthur Ford will be song leader.

This dedicatory service will be a highlight of the weekend Damascus quarterly meeting sessions in this church. Representatives of Friends meetings in this district will attend.

The addition provides a place for Sunday school purposes and social meetings. Besides it has kitchen facilities and a rest room.

A gas furnace has been installed, the auditorium redecorated, the outside painted and the grounds landscaped.

Rev. S. Sherman Brantingham, pastor for the past four years, will receive 12 new members at the Sunday morning service, bringing the total enrollment up to around 85.

An average attendance of 93 at the Sunday morning service for almost a year, is a new record.

History reveals that the New Garden Monthly meeting of Friends was established in 1897 and that its name was changed to the Winona Monthly meeting in 1894.

Point Of Friction Erased After 327 Days; Talks Begin

BERLIN, May 11—(AP)—The Berlin blockade—which brought the east and western powers almost to the brink of war—is to end peacefully tonight.

At one minute after midnight (6:01 p. m. today, Salem time), the land routes to and from west Germany are to open again.

This is the 327th day of Russia's siege. It is the 320th day of the airlift that enabled the United States, Britain and France to cling tenaciously to their sectors of Berlin, which constituted an anti-Communist "island" 100 miles behind the Red army's lines.

Although the blockade and the western counter-blockade are in their final hours, the struggle between the Soviet Union and the western allies over Germany's destiny will continue. The next round starts at the scheduled four-power foreign ministers conference in Paris May 23.

The first Berlin-bound train since the blockade started left Frankfurt, scheduled to arrive at 6:30 a. m. tomorrow (12:30 a. m. tonight). It carried 100 news and radio correspondents and British and American officials.

A threatened strike of German railway workers was averted. The workers' leaders said their demands that the wages of those who work in east Berlin but live in west Berlin be paid in west marks had been granted.

Start Dismantling

Dismantling of brick and metal barricades erected by the Communists started today.

The Soviet headquarters announced the long-severed electrical supply to west Berlin from Russian sector power plants would be resumed, and that the western areas then could have as much current as they need. That means an end of the street lighting blackout, and normal electrical supply for household use.

Post offices in both the western and Soviet zones of Germany said they were making fast progress with plans to restore service disrupted by the blockades. The Soviets announced that west zone German business men are invited to do business again in and with the eastern part. They will need inter-zonal passes from authorities on their own side, and a letter of identification, but no longer will need advance written permission from the Soviet military administration and east German Communists.

Soviet zone canal locks have been readied to handle barges from the west "without friction," an announcement said.

Truckers, Motorists Draw Patrol Fines

Five truck drivers were arrested for overloading their trucks Tuesday and paid fines in district courts. Four others were also arrested by the state highway patrol on varying charges.

The overloads were: Reginald A. Parr, 39, of Canton was fined $50 and costs by Mayor R. R. Johnson.

Nick Christa, 23, of Alliance was fined $25 and costs by Johnson.

Joseph L. Oyster, 25, of Canton was fined $50 and costs by Johnson.

Nathan Price, 32, of Canton was fined $25 and costs by Mayor K. T. Gormley.

William Pierce, 25, of Lansing, Mich., was fined $25 and costs by Gormley.

James W. Southworth, 27, of the Metzger hotel was fined $10 and costs by Johnson for speeding.

Charles G. Hudson, 20, of East Liverpool was fined $5 and costs by Gormley for driving on a temporary permit.

Mary A. DeLeese, 21, of Cleveland forfeited a $15 bond to Mayor William Unger of Sebring for having no drivers license.

Paul E. Glunt, 23, of Hanoverton was fined $10 and costs by Justice Felix Buch of Lisbon for reckless operation.

The Prize Is Pardonable

The Berlin airlift, history's greatest demonstration of the American secret, is now ending. Millions of Europeans are profoundly impressed. They have seen for the first time in peacetime what it is about the United States that transforms the "huddled masses yearning to breathe free" into men of spirit and courage. It's the right to do great deeds.

There was no feasible way for the western allies to break the Russian blockade of Berlin when it was thrown up. That is, there is no feasible way for any European nation to break it; they lacked the resourcefulness to do what the United States was able to do. The airlift was an American phenomenon. It was in the same category with the Marshall plan, with all the accomplishments which have made Americans the most envied people on earth. It was something that couldn't be done which nevertheless was done to prove that human beings are more valuable than money.

The airlift has given a tremendous boost to American prestige. It should make every European wonder why such things are possible when Americans tackle them. It should make them wonder why anyone ever listens to politicians who strangle the freedom which makes great deeds possible. And it should make them wonder what the Kremlin may think of next to sharpen the contrast between Europe's "huddled masses" and the Americans who maintained the Berlin airlift.

Signals Over

Sometimes the situation with experts looks gloomy. Especially when they call "signals over!" and reverse themselves.

President Truman, according to law, is entitled to the best economic experts money can buy. But it was a certainty that if money bought some, they'd be at odds with other economic experts. That has happened.

Mr. Truman's economic experts were telling him not long ago that what he had to fear as chief executive was inflation, that the way to deflate inflation was taxation and therefore taxes should be higher. This made no sense to other experts, and they said so. There was a standoff among the experts.

But now Mr. Truman's experts are telling him taxes should not be higher and are hinting they should be lower. They are telling him that government spending should come down, not go up. This is what nearly everybody outside of the government has been trying to tell Mr. Truman ever since he became chief executive.

There is no word as yet about Mr. Truman's own opinion. He has retained an impressive capacity for believing what he wants to believe. It's still possible he wants to believe the United States needs about four more billion dollars' worth of taxes, plus outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley act, a head start into socialized medicine and a two-fisted program to fight inflation and whatever else may come to mind which would rattle the composure of the experts who haven't been on his side the last four years.

Rebel Yells

Nothing tickles northern Republicans quite so much as the prospect of a pitched battle between a Dixie Democrat and a New Dealer. It fools them every time.

Dixie Democrats and New Dealers have been on the verge of fighting since long before the Civil war—and during the Civil war they actually fought. But as soon as it was over they reached a working agreement again.

With allowances for changes of name and circumstances, the agreement works like this:

That we will get almost angry enough to split the Democratic party wide open—but not quite; that we will get angry enough to fool the Republicans—but not angry enough to fool each other.

Right now the feud has broken out between a Democrat from Missouri, Harry Truman, and a Democrat from Virginia, Harry Byrd. Rebel yells are echoing from the hills, and the magnolia blossoms are quivering. Otherwise, everything's the same as usual. When the time comes, the combatants will rise from where they have fallen on the field of battle and go to the polls to vote a straight Democratic ticket.

Don't Shout Gentlemen

Britain's Socialists, shouting that they were stabbing at the heart of capitalism, whooped through a bill to nationalize the steel industry this week. They would be more tactful if they didn't shout about such things.

The United States, which has been supplying some of the surplus of its own free enterprise to ease Britain's transformation from a free society to a state-controlled society, realizes that nationalization of any basic industry is a blow at capitalism. And it is beginning to realize something else.

Totalitarian government by any other name would smell as sweet. One of these days if Britain continues to let totalitarian politicians tighten the noose on its neck, there won't be much choice between it and any other country which has abandoned its trusteeship of human liberty. When that day comes, a British government might adopt an attitude of hostility toward the United States for being unwilling to condemn dictatorship in the British Isles. It's a horrible prospect. Labor members of parliament who think otherwise don't need to shout threats to make American flesh creep.

For Thursday, May 12
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

SOME surprising news, a strange revolution of the wheel of fortune, may be destined to change the entire course of events, especially where the current engagement in putting over novel deals or programs is of utmost concern. Radical change is involved, with fresh contacts, and strange adventures in the offing. Seek the more mature judgment of elders, superiors of those in authority. Keen mentality, a fertile imagination, could gain by their calm guidance.

Those whose birthday it is, while being receptive and resourceful, with novelty, imagination and unusually clever and creative ideas, ideals or talents, nonetheless may benefit by heeding the wise counsel of older heads, whose mature judgment or friendly interest may assist in making practical or sounder decisions. ## GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Proper Treatment of Gout Important

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

The most important thing to remember about gout is that in the early stages, proper treatment can prevent its worst features. If neglected, it may become a permanent disabling condition.

Gout was a familiar disease two centuries ago when it was thought to be one of the penalties of good living and hard drinking. Today we have a more correct idea of its nature, suspecting that basically it may be due to the body's failure to utilize certain food substances properly. There is some evidence that the disease tends to run in families.

We know that in this disorder there is inflammation of the joints, an increase in the amount of uric acid in the blood, and deposits of a chemical known as sodium urate in and around the joints.

Gout comes on in attacks with pain in the joints and sometimes slight fever. The joint-affected areas are usually red and swollen.

Attacks of gout may be brought on by a large number of things, such as foods, certain alcoholic beverages, the eating of excessive amounts of fats, and surgical operations. Then, too, there are certain drugs, such as insulin and liver injections, which may cause seizures. Exposure to cold and dampness are well-known causes of attacks.

Recently, it has been shown that sensitivity to foods and poisons or allergy may play a role in the development of an attack of gout. An acute attack may be brought on by injecting pollen extracts under the skin, or by giving patients foods to which they were known to be sensitive.

In some of these patients, other symptoms of allergy develop, such as nasal discharge. The patient's nose treated by giving them a drug known as ephedrine, which has been found to aid greatly in relieving gout. Also, they are given injections of epinephrine under the skin, which tends to relieve the symptoms produced by allergy.

It would be a good plan for those with gout to have a thorough study made to determine if they are suffering from an allergy or oversensitivity. If they are found to be sensitive to poisons, they could take steps to avoid contact with them. Of course, if they are sensitive to foods, the foods causing the difficulty might be eliminated from the diet. These measures would aid in cutting down the number of gouty attacks.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. D.: Would an X-ray examination show a small tumor on the ovary?

Answer: It is not likely that the tumor would be visible on an X-ray plate. Such tumors may be diagnosed by the symptoms which they cause, as well as by enlargement of the ovary which can be detected by examination.

Canton Steel Plant
Closes Down Tonight

CANTON, May 11—(AP)—Steel making at Barium Steel & Forge, Inc., here, will be halted completely tonight when a 40-ton open hearth furnace is shut down. A similar unit was closed last Wednesday.

James C. Hartley, vice president and general manager said approximately 80 employees will be laid off, raising the plant's payroll down to 135 hourly-rated workers from a peak of 238 six months ago.

Barium has been operating its two open hearths mainly to make carbon steel for other manufacturers, but it has also been making a small amount of alloy steel for its own use. It will now purchase steel or its forging operations.

CONSUMER INCOME
DROPS IN MARCH;
STILL ABOVE '48

WASHINGTON, May 11—(AP)—Consumer income dropped in March for the third consecutive month, falling three per cent below the peak reached last December. After the drop it was still four per cent above March, 1948.

The Commerce department, reporting this today, said March consumer income fell $2,000,000,000 below February to an annual rate of $214,300,000,000.

Declines in wages and salaries, easily the biggest item of consumer income, and in receipts of owners of farms and unincorporated businesses were chiefly responsible. They were partly offset, however, by increased unemployment compensation payments.

The term "consumer income," as used by the government, means practically all income received by individuals as distinguished from income received from corporations.

For the first three months of 1949, consumer income was at an annual rate of $216,700,000,000 compared with $219,600,000,000 in the fourth quarter of 1948.

For March, non-agricultural income totaled $192,600,000,000 at an annual rate compared with $194,100,000,000 in February. Farm income flowed at a $21,700,000,000 clip in March against $22,200,000,000 in February.

BYRD, TRUMAN STRUGGLE OVER DEMOCRAT REINS

Both Tough Politicians, Have Been Foes For Many Years

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, May 11—(UP)—Another political feud hit the headlines today to remain awhile as President Truman and Sen. F. Byrd (D) of Virginia squared off in battle for control of the Democratic party in the senate.

Both are professional politicians, graduated cum laude from rough and tumble political machines. Truman got his diploma under the teachings of the late Tom Pendergast, who was boss of Missouri Democrats until he went to jail on income charges.

The senator's degree comes from his own Byrd machine which controls the Democratic party in Virginia. The bitterness, which has developed between the two men was revealed yesterday in the somewhat loose talk of Gilbert Harrison, a White House visitor, who confided that Truman had said there were "too many Byrds in the senate." It is not considered cricket to repeat presidential conversations.

Sen. Byrd thought over the comment for a bit yesterday afternoon and replied:

"If the President means he will attempt to purge me from the senate because I will not accept his dictatorship in matters of legislation, then I will be on hand when the purging starts. I owe my allegiance to my constituents of Virginia. So long as I remain in the senate I will vote as my conscience dictates and to represent the wishes of my constituents."

Sen. Byrd comes up for re-election in 1952, a presidential year when Truman may also be a candidate again. Some of Sen. Byrd's sympathetic colleagues avoided the scrap when asked to comment on it today. But the lines are forming. Ultimately all of the Democratic side will have to make up their minds when the roll is called whether to vote with Sen. Byrd for economy or with Truman for more taxes and big spending.

The senator has been sharp shooting the Truman administration for some time just as he potted the Roosevelt administration before it. But two recent incidents evidently fired the President's feelings to the point where he would tell a White House visitor that Byrd should be bounced out of the senate.

The first was the adverse senate committee vote on Truman's nomination of Mon C. Wallgren to be chairman of the national security resources board. Sen. Byrd voted with the Republicans to reject the nomination.

The other incident was a statement issued by Sen. Byrd last week analyzing Truman's entire program in terms of money, projects and probable results. He held Truman guilty of fiscal and social excesses.

One by one the other Democrats will have to stand up and be counted as this session continues and Sen. Byrd offers the amendments which would cut federal spending by at least 10 per cent.

Men Who Fly Airlift Feel End Of Blockade Own Victory

CELLE, Germany, May 11—(AP)—The men who fly the airlift count the end of the Berlin blockade as a personal triumph.

They claim it was their airlift which won the "Battle of Berlin." And they think this cold war victory deserves the usual war's end recognition—a special holiday.

How about a V-B day, they say, to celebrate "victory in Berlin."

"We have V-E day for victory in Europe and V-J day for victory in Japan," said Lt. Truman Lucas of Indianapolis, Ind. "So why not a V-B day? This victory may prove to be just as important."

The idea met a ready response among the pilots and ground crews who have been working night and day to keep Berlin supplied with food and fuel.

"We could certainly use a holiday, all right—and I think we've earned one," said Corp. Joseph Howard, Taunton, Mass.

Even the airlift commanders who talked of carrying on the airlift despite the blockade's end agreed with the men that they had earned a holiday.

"The boys rightly regard this blockade lifting as a personal victory, and they are proud of it," said Lt. Col. Robert J. Dural, North Hollywood, Calif., acting commander of the big U. S. airlift base here.

"They have really earned a victory celebration and a holiday."

"This has been just as important a battle as any I ever fought," said the combat veteran, Lt. Col. Conway S. Hall, Rose City, North Little Rock, Ark., commander of the airlift base at nearby Fassberg. Hall fought with the Eighth Airforce in Europe during the war.

"It has been fully comparable to a wartime battle, and I am sure the men are all mighty proud and happy to have it end in such a well-deserved victory," Hall added.

There has been no letup in airlift operations, even though trains and trucks will begin Thursday to take over the job of hauling food and

ATLANTIC PACT HELD UP IN ROW

Senators Connally and Watkins Feud over Committee Hearing

WASHINGTON, May 11—(UP)—Some Republicans predicted today that the row between Sens. Tom Connally (D) of Texas and Arthur V. Watkins (R) of Utah will delay senate ratification of the Atlantic Pact.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R) of New Hampshire said the ruckus "sure will" prolong consideration of the treaty when it reaches the senate floor. Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R) of Iowa said it certainly "won't shorten debate any."

The row reached its climax yesterday when Watkins stomped out of the hearing by the senate Foreign Relations committee, claiming that Connally, the committee chairman, had "humiliated and embarrassed" him.

The committee has been holding hearing on the Pact. Although not a committee member, Watkins has been permitted to question witnesses.

es. Connally has been extremely critical of Watkins' line of interrogation.

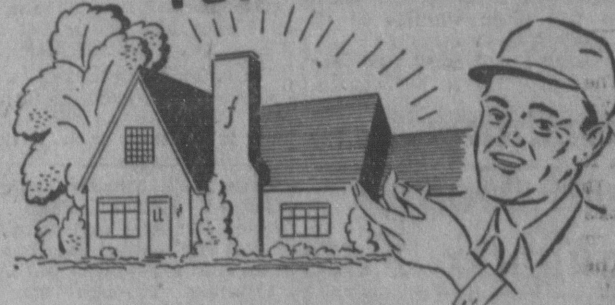

When Connally complained yesterday that Watkins' questions were designed to express his own views on the pact and not to elicit information from the witness, the Utah senator gathered up his papers and left the committee room.

He assailed Connally later for what he said were the Texan's "provocative actions." He said he had plenty of questions still to ask about the Pact but would reserve them for the senate floor where no "tag rule" prevails.

Connally predicted that Watkins' walkout would have little effect on the senate's vote on the Pact. He said he still intends to press for speedy action not only on the treaty but also on its corollary, arms-for-Europe program.

Leetonia Busy With Plans For Homecoming Festival

LEETONIA, May 11—A Soap Box Derby will be one of the features of the Homecoming festival, which is set for June 1-4.

The decision was reached at the meeting Monday night in the American Legion hall. The Homecoming committee will sponsor the race for the kids and if the winner goes to the Akron National Soap Box Derby finals, he will be the guest of the Akron Beacon Journal according to Carl Varian, general chairman.

A full set of rules, patterned after National Soap Box Derby regulations, is available from Joe Leeson, who with Francis Brennan, is in charge of Homecoming activity.

The race will be held on either June 2 or 3 on the hill near Oakdale cemetery on the Lisbon-Leetonia road. Prizes are being arranged for this feature and boys are urged to contact Leeson or Brennan immediately for instructions.

Seek Display Tent Entries

A large tent will be erected at the corner of Front and Walnut streets for exhibits of Leetonia area industries and businesses. More than half of the space has been taken but Jack Woods, chairman, said today that some display space is still available.

On Sunday, June 5, Leetonia churches are to have special programs for former residents who return to the village for the celebration.

Prizes are to be presented every night of the festival, according to Varian. They include a silverware serving for eight people, valued at $125, Delta woodworking set of electrical tools, valued at approximately $500 and a $500 cash prize on the final evening of the event.

The Volunteer Firemen, Leetonia Sportsmen, association and the American Legion auxiliary are among groups planning booths on Main st. during the four-day affair.

Entries for the Queen contest are being received by Chairman Jack Ripley who urges contestants to announce their intentions this week. A beautiful cup and valuable prizes will be given to the Homecoming Queen contest winner.

Chairmen Named

Committee chairmen for the Third Annual version of the festival, besides Varian, include: Jack Woods and Francis Brennan, assistant chairmen; Mayor Fred Galley and Joe Leeson, publicity; Paul Otto and Andrew Duko, checkers; Marcus Ilt and Jim Bellhart, games; C. Richard Rose and H. H. merchants; Joe Bernard and Lloyd Berg, lighting; L. Fisher and C. Stewart, finance and drawings; Chalmers Lodge and Leeson. Lodge also heads the ticket sale committee.

More than 30 members of the Sons of the American Legion post and advisors participated in day long activities on Saturday when they went to the Highland park zoo.

The bus stopped at the Sewickley American Legion post where the group was the guest of the post for an evening meal.

Cleveland Attorney To Speak At Lisbon Program

LISBON, May 11—Attorney John Howland of Cleveland will be the speaker at the Memorial Day services in the cemetery park, Commander Charles Faust of John J. Welsh Post, No. 275, American Legion, stated today in announcing committees for the observance.

William Hatfield has been named parade marshal, with Robert Kelm and Richard Rose, aides; Hoyte Sexton, Vance Brinker, Paul Culler, Paul Bursip and Merle Burton, in charge of decoration of soldiers graves, and L. S. Firestone, program chairman.

Draws Parole

Carl Barton of Columbiana county was among the 43 inmates of the Ohio penitentiary granted paroles by the state Pardon and Parole commission this week.

He has been serving a sentence for an attempt to carnally know and abuse a female under 16 with consent.

PRONOUNCED DEAD, HE'S ALIVE

BROUGHT BACK FROM DEATH, 4-year-old Larry Page is in critical condition at a Pasadena, Cal., hospital as his mother sits prayerfully at his bedside. Struck by an auto when he darted into the street, he was pronounced dead by three doctors on arrival at the hospital. But in a desperate effort they injected stimulants, applied artificial respiration, and in 10 minutes he breathed again. (International) provide other increases demanded by schools, local government, state employees and others. Republicans have hinted budget cuts would help.

The three "hot" bills have been bottled in rules committee, but school and municipalities' lobbies apparently popped the cork. The school bill is sponsored by Guthrie and Sen. Albert L. Daniels, (R-Highland). The other two, known as "Youngstown plan" measures, are sponsored by Jackson and Sen. Nicholas P. Bernard, both Youngstown Democrats.

Creates Need

Action on the three measures apparently is designed to create a need for the Guthrie gross sales tax bill pending in the senate taxation committee. Guthrie has estimated it would yield an extra $30,000,000 annually. That would be enough, he said, to supply the money asked by teachers, state employees, local government and others.

The $30,000,000 Guthrie bill increase would come from taxes on now-exempt cigarettes, intoxicants and casual sales over $100, restoration of the one-cent tax on sales over 14 cents and elimination of tax stamps. Merchants would pay a flat three per cent tax on gross sales and pass it on to consumers.

The house is set for a second battle over FEPC, representatives last March 23 rejected an educational program by a single vote and approved a compulsory measure to prevent employment discrimination because of race or religion.

The senate last week substituted the educational program and returned the bill to the house for concurrence in the change. Reports circulated that house Democrats wanted a vote to refuse concurrence. That probably would send the bill to a senate-house reference committee for compromise. An unacceptable compromise would mean no FEPC law this session and present Democrats with a tailor-made campaign issue next year.

Lausche, labor unions, religious and racial organizations endorsed the compulsory FEPC measure. Employers and some church groups opposed it.

Unions and the governor also have endorsed the unemployment compensation measure although minor changes have been sought after it amendments are expected to be passed the senate. A number of offered on the house floor.

NEW BASEMENT

site upon which the Winona church was built was purchased from Mary Allen and Elsie Pettit at a cost of $279.50. The edifice, for which much of the material and labor was donated, was erected at a cost of around $500.

A report from the Sunday school at the close of the first year shows an average attendance of 30 scholars, four teachers and four officers. In 1887 a revival service was held by Judith C. Johnson and David J. Lewis, which resulted in an addition of 38 members.

A committee composed of Isaiah Whinery, George Cobourn, Albert Lamborn, Henry Van Fossan, Emmor Harris, Jacob Taylor and S. J. Ercornall were in charge of the work when the parsonage was built in 1897 at a cost of $519.89. Improvements have been made to this house in recent years.

Records show a striking contrast between paint prices in 1902 and 1949. In 1902 the church was painted at a total cost of $21.35. The paint and brushes cost $17.35, while the painter received $4 for his wages.

Among the ministers who have served this church are Eber Hobson, Daniel Whybrew, Everett Wyble, Charles Emminger, Isaac Stratton, Martin and Lydia Brantingham, Joseph and Dorene Speas, Seth and Ethel Jackson and Frank Ehyart.

This congregation has contributed much to the spiritual life of the community through the years. Missionaries have been sent from this church to foreign countries and several ministers have been recorded.

Mrs. Brantingham, wife of the present pastor, is the former Dorothy Wright of Salem. She serves as pianist, and works with her husband in all the activities of the church.

Paul Brantingham was the general chairman for the new improvements, working with the trustees, Paul Denkhaus, Dawson Irey, Jr., Norman Sturgeon and Robert Brantingham.

MRS. GEHRIG GIVES TESTIMONY ON LOU'S ILLNESS AND DEATH

Gives Information Before Senate Health Group To Combat Disease

WASHINGTON, May 11—(AP)—Mrs. Lou Gehrig, widow of the New York Yankees' great first baseman, today made a dramatic plea to congress for help in combating the disease which killed her husband.

A senate labor and public health subcommittee has before it a bill which would set up a foundation to study multiple sclerosis.

"I am not an expert," Mrs. Gehrig said, "but it is a tragic fact that my testimony on this subject is almost as authoritative as that of any doctor in the land."

"This is not an indication of my erudition. It is an indication of how little is known concerning multiple sclerosis—even by the doctors who are most interested in it."

It is eight years now since Gehrig died. And the widow speaking quietly but knowingly, told how it was to watch him die.

He had been no good time, hell-for-leather athlete. On the contrary, she said, he neither drank nor smoked.

And then—

"He was stricken by this insidious disease."

"As the disease progressed," she continued, "he couldn't dress himself, he couldn't feed himself, he couldn't walk."

"Two years after he hung up his old Yankee uniform for the last time, he died."

Said Mrs. Gehrig:

"To watch someone close to you become a helpless, hopeless paralytic and to know that medical science is powerless to halt the progress of the disease, is something which no person should be called upon to endure."

Doctors estimate that a quarter of a million persons have multiple sclerosis. Lou Gehrig had a kindred disease, known as amyotrophic lateral sclerosis. Peculiarly, the disease seems to strike the young and healthy.

The bill was introduced by Senator Tobey (R-NH). His daughter, now Mrs. Sterling Dean, who has been suffering from the disease since 1930, was in the room.

Up Bay Village Teachers

CLEVELAND, May 11—A $300 increase in annual salaries and boosts in minimum and maximum pay scales have been approved for teachers in nearby Bay Village.

The school board action, however, is contingent on passage of a special levy next November. For teachers with four years of college training, the minimum is raised from $2,200 to $2,400. Maximum pay for those with bachelor degrees will jump from $3,300 to $4,000 and from $3,800 to $4,500 for those with master degrees.

Steals Church Stones

RAVENNA, May 11—Sheriff Coy Garrett said a "cheap, low-down thief" stole 40 concrete stepping stones from the yard of the Methodist church in nearby Drakesburg, the sheriff's home town.

'G-Girl' at Trial

A SECRETARY in the New York office of the FBI, Catherine T. Condon arrives in Washington's District Court to testify in the espionage trial of Judith Coplon. During the two months in which the FBI was trailing the ex-government employee, Miss Condon often doubled as a "G-Man" to keep the suspect covered at all times. (International)

Believes Coal Faces Competition

CLEVELAND, May 11—(UP)—An industry researcher said today that coal faces high-pressure competition from other fuels, but predicted the current decline in demand would not be as severe as in the early '30s.

George A. Lamb, manager of business surveys of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., rejected the "history repeats" doctrine in a speech prepared for delivery before the American mining congress, meeting here.

"For more than two decades overcapacity has served as the greatest single curse to the economic health of the coal industry," Lamb said.

"While it remains a matter of some concern, it no longer bears the same relationship to the future of coal as it did in the 1920's and 1930's. Gradually, the factors of market and capacity are coming more and more into balance," he said.

Looking into the near future, Lamb said coal must expect to face competition from other fuels and industries. However, he pointed out that coal would be called upon to fulfill a larger role in fuel supply as the demand for energy grows and our reserves of fuel resources dwindle.

He advised producers to "win the consumer's favor by meeting his wants" and to develop output "to generate new wants."

If the industry understands its position, and if it can remain healthy and strong, the long-term future of coal can be considered secure, he said.

Will Open New Plant

FREMONT, May 11—The city's $700,000 sewage treatment plant will not start operating until Aug. 1, but water users are being billed for it already. Mayor Harold Whitcomb said charges were added to current bills to build up a fund to pay maintenance costs.

10,000 Shipyard Men Will Be Laid Off

WASHINGTON, May 11—(UP)—Some 10,000 Naval shipyard workers will be laid off, most of them by July 1, to meet budget limitations for the new fiscal year, the Navy announced today.

It said wage boosts granted during the past year, higher material costs and reduced construction funds were important factors in forcing the cutback.

The Boston shipyard will be hardest hit. Some 1,700 workers will be fired there during the next fiscal year. The New York naval yard fared best in the cutback. It had 12,280 employees on March 31, and was allowed an average of 12,250 in fiscal 1950.

The Navy said 7,325 workers will be let go by July 1 at the 11 naval shipyards in the United States and Hawaii. The rest will be released during the succeeding months.

It was the second major retrenchment move announced by the government within a week. The Veterans Administration on Friday ordered dismissal of 8,000 employees and revealed that it was closing 42 branch offices in 23 states.

Brave Cleveland Girl Raises Earthworms As A Business

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, May 11.—(UP)—It's a little unusual to find a pretty young lady who divides her affections between little kiddies and little earthworms.

Such a girl is Edna Stickney, who lives in the Cleveland neighborhood. Edna reads a sober piece in the other day braining the fine qualities of the so-called lowly earthworm. The young lady, it turns out to be, can find prettier words to describe the earth, wiggle, or fishworm.

Edna teaches little kids all day and nurses little wiggle worms far into the night—and makes money out of both occupations.

It seems that our heroine was sitting around discussing geography and split infinitives with other teachers one day when the subject of worms came up. One teacher said she had a batch of earthworms which had done her garden more than a little good. Not only that, she said she had some for sale.

So our Edna bit. For $25, she found herself the owner of 3,000 worms.

"They were specially-raised earthworms," Edna wrote. "Small, a deep red color—the kind that can live in any soil."

"Did the teacher 'worm-owner put all her worms in one place?' She did not. She put half of 'em around the peach trees, under the grape vines and around the rose bushes. With the rest, she started a 'worm ranch' in her basement. She put these into small wooden boxes with soil, humus and leaves. She sprinkled a nickle's worth of rye and some oats in another box and let it all grow up about four inches high. Then she yanked it out and put it in the worm boxes for feed."

During the next spring and Edna had to look around for another worm nursery. In fact two more boxes. Her cellar population had doubled.

Across the many miles to Ohio, I couldn't see Edna blush. But she gave me a fill-in by mail on the love-life of the earthworm. They are prolific breeders, she said. They deposit capsules which may hatch out four to eight worms within 26 days. These little wigglers grow up in 80 to 90 days and then are ready to be parents.

Earthworms are bi-sexual. That is, every worm can reproduce, but each must be fertilized by another worm.

Before our Edna knew it, she found herself in the earthworm business. She says worms are good for a lot of things besides fishing. They burrow deep into the soil and make little holes into which the water seeps through the good earth.

"And a worm—although it may turn—won't run away. An earthworm never gets more than a couple or three feet away from the home base. Not only that—quoting the

Unveils Red Spy Scare At University

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—House spy hunters said today they have testimony that the son of a University of California official helped a Communist attempt to infiltrate the school's atomic laboratory in 1941.

The testimony was given in secret session by Paul Crouch, admitted former Communist of Miami, Fla., who is scheduled to testify again at a hearing of the house Un-American activities committee on May 24.

"I was active in trying to infiltrate all scientific research at the University of California," Crouch told the committee last Friday behind closed doors.

In that project, he said, he was assisted by the son of the university official, who drove him to secret meetings in swank southern California homes. Because the testimony was taken secretly, the committee would not permit use of the official's name.

The plan, Crouch said, was to organize the laboratory workers into special sections of the Communist party. So secret was the project, he said, that instead of using names of individuals, party communications referred to them in Greek figures.
